

The University of Calgary Advising Network (UCAN) is pleased to be hosting the 2nd Annual Alberta Academic Advising Symposium, on Friday, November 8 from 9:00 - 4:00pm. This will be a great opportunity to engage in professional development and networking with our Alberta advising colleagues.

The symposium schedule has been finalized and highlights of the day will include:

- A keynote address by Dr. Jillian Kinzie, Associate Director of the Centre for Postsecondary Research & NSSE Institute
- 8 break-out sessions featuring information and strategies on topics such as: supporting academically at-risk students, high-achieving students, academic advising organizational models, advising students with complex needs, and supporting and promoting student engagement

For the full schedule, session descriptions, and registration information, please visit: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/ABadvising>

A registration fee of $35.00 is required to attend the symposium, and will include a continental breakfast and lunch.

We are looking forward to seeing you there on November 8, 2013.
